ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA

REGULATIONS

ADOPTED OCTOBER 11, 1884. REVISED MAY 8, 1897.

I. THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA, consisting of a number of Affiliated Societies, is formed for the purpose of promoting and directing archaeological investigation and research,— by sending out expeditions for special investigation, by aiding the efforts of independent explorers, by publication of archaeological papers, and of reports of the results of the expeditions which the Institute may undertake or promote, and by any other means which may from time to time appear desirable.

II. The Archaeological Institute shall consist of Annual and Life Members duly approved by the Affiliated Societies, the former being those persons who shall pay an annual assessment of $10, and the latter such as shall contribute at one time not less than $100 to its funds. Classes of Honorary and Corresponding Members may be formed at the discretion of the government of the Institute, and under such regulations as it may impose.

III. The government of the Institute shall be vested in a Council, consisting of the following ex officio members: the President, the Honorary Presidents, the Vice-Presidents, the Treasurer, and the Secretary of the Institute, and the Editor-in-Chief of its Journal; the Presidents of the Affiliated Societies; the Chairmen of the Managing Committees of the Schools of Classical Studies at Athens and in Rome; and of additional members annually chosen by the members of the Affiliated Societies as follows:—

Any local archaeological society, consisting of not less than ten members of the Institute, may, by vote of the Council, be affiliated with the Institute, and shall then have the right to elect one member to the Council. When the members of such society shall exceed fifty, they shall have the right to elect a second member to the Council, and similarly another member for each additional fifty.

IV. The officers of the Institute and of the Council shall be a President, Honorary Presidents, five Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary. The President and Vice-Presidents shall be elected at the annual meeting of the Council, and shall be eligible for reëlection. The Honorary Presidents shall be the former Presidents of the Institute. The Treasurer and the Secretary shall be chosen by the Council, and shall hold office at its pleasure.

V. There shall be an Executive Committee consisting of the President and four other members to be appointed by the President annually.

VI. The President, in behalf of the Council, shall present a Report on the affairs of the Institute annually to its members.

VII. The Secretary shall keep a record of the transactions of the Council, and shall perform such other duties as pertain to his office.

The Treasurer shall collect, receive, and keep account of all assessments, subscriptions, and gifts of money to the Institute, shall pay its dues, and shall present to the Council at its annual meeting a written statement of accounts.

VIII. The accounts of the Institute shall be submitted annually by the Treasurer to two Auditors, to be appointed by the President, who shall attest by their signatures the correctness of said accounts, and report the same at the annual meeting.

IX. The Council shall hold an annual meeting on the second Saturday of May, at 10 o'clock A.M., at such place as may be selected by its members at the previous annual meeting. Any member of the Council unable to be present at any meeting may appoint by writing any other member to act as his proxy. One-third of all the members of the Council, present in person or by proxy, shall form a quorum.

Special meetings of the Council may be called by the Secretary, upon direction of the President, or at the written request of one-third of its members.

X. The Institute shall meet annually, as a whole, for the reading and discussion of scientific papers by its members. The time and place of this meeting shall be determined by the Council at its annual meeting.

General meetings of the Institute may be called from time to time, at the discretion of the Council.

XI. The Council shall have full power to determine the work to be undertaken by the Institute, and the mode of its accomplishment; to employ agents, and to expend all the available funds of the Institute for the purpose for which it is formed; but it shall not have the power to incur any debt on behalf of the Institute. It shall have no other jurisdiction over the regulations or actions of the Affiliated Societies than that these Societies shall not undertake any formal publication without its consent; and any moneys contributed for any object promoted by an Affiliated Society, approved by the Council, shall be strictly appropriated to that object.

XII. Any collection of antiquities which may come into the possession of the Institute through the explorations undertaken by it, or otherwise, may be sold, at the discretion of the Council, to the museum or other public institution in the United States which may offer for them the largest sum; it being understood that contributions toward the cost of any exploration may be assigned by the donors to the credit of any museum or public institution as part of the purchase money.

XIII. The names of all Affiliated Societies and Members shall be printed with the Annual Report of the Council. Names of Life Members deceased shall be printed in the regular list, but these names shall be starred.

XIV. Each Affiliated Society shall be designated by its local name in the following style:

BALTIMORE SOCIETY

And it shall have the right to use the seal of the Institute on its official papers.

XV. Assessments, subscriptions, and donations may be paid to the Treasurer of the Institute or to the Treasurer of the Affiliated Society to which the contributing member belongs. Annual Members who have failed to pay their dues for two consecutive years shall, unless special action be taken by the Affiliated Society to the contrary, be dropped from the list of the Institute. The year shall be considered as closing on the 31st of August, and from this time the assessments of the year then ensuing shall become due.

XVI. Ten per cent of all annual dues received by each Affiliated Society shall be held by its Treasurer for the discharge of local expenses. In case any Society does not in any year require the whole of this sum, the balance shall, at the end of the year, be passed into the general funds of the Institute. Grants in aid of Affiliated Societies may be made by the Council.

XVII. Each member of the Institute shall receive a copy of all regular publications of the Institute issued during the period of his membership.

XVIII. The Institute commits to the Managing Committee of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens, and to the Managing Committee of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, respectively, the entire administration of these Schools, including the expenditure of their incomes, under the following provisions:

1. The Chairman of the Managing Committee of each School shall make a report to the Council annually on the work of the School during the preceding year.
2. The President of the Institute shall be ex officio a member of the Managing and Executive Committees of each School, and the Chairman of the Managing Committee of each School shall be ex officio a member of the Council of the Institute.
3. A copy of all ordinary publications of the Schools shall be sent to each member of the Institute, and the Institute shall bear a proportionate share of the expense of publication of the Papers and Reports of the Schools.
4. The Institute shall maintain in each of the Schools a fellowship, to be administered by the Managing Committee, of the annual value of six hundred dollars, for the encouragement of archaeological studies.

In the spring of 1896, the School in Rome had mouldings made of the Triumphal Arch of Trajan at Beneventum, under the direction of Professor Frothingham, the Associate Director of the School in 1895-96, who has given an account of the work in his Report for the year. This report was published in the first number of the Journal of the Institute for 1897. Professor Frothingham has prepared a catalogue with prices of all the casts. The entire series is sold for 5000 Italian lire, or (at the present rate of exchange) $925, not including the cost of packing and transportation. Orders should be addressed to the Director of the American School of Classical Studies, 2, Via Gaeta, Rome.

LANTERN SLIDES

The Institute and the Schools of Classical Studies have appointed a Committee on the formation of a collection of lantern slides for the illustration of the topography, architecture, art, and antiquities of classical lands. The collection has been begun, but is not yet available for use.

FELLOWSHIPS

Six Fellowships will be awarded for the year 1900-1901: three in Greek Archaeology, two with a stipend of six hundred dollars each, and one with a stipend of one thousand dollars, at the American School of Classical Studies at Athens; two in Roman Archaeology, each with a stipend of six hundred dollars, at the American School of Classical Studies in Rome; and one for the study of Christian Archaeology, with a stipend of five hundred dollars, at the School in Rome.

These Fellowships are open to all Bachelors of Arts of universities and colleges in the United States of America, and to other American students of similar attainments, except that the Agnes Hoppin Memorial Fellowship of the School at Athens with an annual income of one thousand dollars is awarded only to a woman. They will be awarded chiefly on the basis of competitive written examinations, but other evidence of ability and attainments on the part of candidates will be considered, and the Agnes Hoppin Memorial Fellowship will be awarded without an examination. Under special circumstances and in order to secure the completion of important investigations, the Committee may reappoint a Fellow without an examination.

The holders of these Fellowships will be enrolled as regular members of the School to which they are attached, and will be required to pursue their studies, under the supervision of its Director, during the full school year of ten months. But Fellows of either School, with the consent of the Director, may spend a limited portion of the year in residence at the other School, under the supervision of its Director. In addition to his general studies, each holder of a Fellowship is required to prosecute some definite subject of special research, and, after the completion of the year, to present a paper embodying the results of his investigation. Twice in the year, namely on February 1 and June 1, each Fellow will make a report to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships, with regard to the use which he has made of his time, and in particular and in detail on the progress of his researches. For the prosecution of his special investigation he may obtain leave, under certain conditions, to supplement his studies at Athens or in Rome by researches elsewhere than in Greece or Italy. (See Regulations XI and XX of the School at Athens, and Regulations VIII and XVII of the School in Rome.) The Fellow must be a candidate for a certificate.

Each candidate must announce in writing his intention to offer himself for examination. This announcement must be made to the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships of the School which the candidate wishes to join (Professor Abby Leach, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for the School at Athens; and Professor Clement L. Smith, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., for the School in Rome), and must be in the Chairman's hands not later than February 1, 1900. The receipt of the application will be acknowledged, and the candidate will receive a blank to be filled out at his convenience and handed in at the time of the examination, in which he will give information in regard to his studies and attainments. A copy of this blank may also be obtained at any time by application to the proper Chairman.

The examinations will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, and on Thursday morning, March 13, 14, and 15, 1900, for the Fellowships of the School in Rome; and on Thursday afternoon, and on Friday and Saturday, March 15, 16, and 17, for the Fellowships of the School at Athens. They will be held at the American School at Athens, at the American School in Rome, at any of the Universities and Colleges in America represented on the Managing Committee of either School, and at such other places as may be later designated.

The Agnes Hoppin Memorial Fellowship in the School at Athens was established in 1898 by Mrs. Courtland Hoppin, Miss Sarah Hoppin, and Dr. Joseph Clark Hoppin. It will be awarded, without the requirement of an examination, to any woman who, in the opinion of the Committee, shall seem from her previous record to be worthy of receiving it. Candidates should present to the Committee evidence of work performed. In general, preference will be given to a candidate who has already spent a year as a student in the School at Athens, and in particular to a candidate who has held one of the Fellowships of the School, but no one can hold this Fellowship for more than one year. Candidates for this Fellowship must file their applications, accompanied by credentials and evidences of attainment, with the Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships on or before March 1.

The award of the Fellowships will be made, and notice sent to all candidates, as soon as practicable after the examinations are held. This notice will be mailed probably not later than May 1. The income of these Fellowships is paid in three instalments of $200 each, on August 15, January 15, and June 1.

The subjects covered by the examinations, with the precise time assigned to each, are stated by the following schemes. These are followed by copies of the papers set in the examinations of 1899.

The Fellowship examinations of 1901 will be held on March 19-23, under conditions similar to those which are stated above. Communications on the subject of the Fellowships of the School at Athens should be addressed to Professor Abby Leach, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; and of the Fellowships of the School in Rome, to Professor Clement L. Smith, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

FELLOWSHIP EXAMINATIONS IN THE SCHOOL AT ATHENS

The examination in 1900 will cover the subjects named below, and will be based on the books specially named. Other books are named for supplementary reading and reference. For additional titles, candidates are referred to the list of "Books Recommended," which was published in the Appendix to each of the first two volumes of the Journal of the Institute. Each candidate should strive to make his study of the special subjects in Greek Archaeology named below as largely objective as possible, by the careful inspection and comparison of monuments of Greek art, in originals if possible, otherwise in casts, models, electrotypes, photographs, and engravings. The time at which examinations will be held in 1900 is named in each case. Details of the subjects of examination, particularly in Greek Architecture and Greek Sculpture, are subject to change from year to year. The principal changes for the examination of 1901 are noted below.

Fellows are subject to no fee for tuition. The men who are holders of fellowships will be allowed to occupy furnished rooms in the School building on payment each of $20 per annum.

Fellows of the School are advised to spend the summer preceding their year at Athens in study in the museums of Northern Europe.

ITALIAN

THURSDAY, MARCH 16. 11 A.M.-12 M.

1. Noi dobbiamo alle ricerche dello Jordan specialmente e del de Rossi di essere giunti al risultato che Augusto oltre al censimento dei cittadini romani intraprese anche grandiosi lavori di misure e di carte topografiche per tutto il mondo romano e che il risultato di queste grandiose operazioni egli fece esporre nel celebre orbis pictus o carta geografica dipinta di tutto il mondo, collocata nei portici di Polla nel Campo Marzio. Sappiamo inoltre che tali lavori furono dedicati nell' anno 747 di Roma che è assai probabilmente quello della natività del Salvatore; onde si rende sempre più ammissibile il fatto che realmente in quell' anno si stessero terminando le altre operazioni accessorie di misure e di descrizione di abitanti anche nei regni confinanti con le province come una lenta preparazione alla loro conquista ed alla loro riunione all' orbis romanus.

2. Write the Italian equivalents for the following nouns, prefixing to each its proper article: street, corner, valise, trunk, luncheon, building, poet, stone, catalogue, river.

3. Give the contract forms of da and per with the several forms of the definite article.

4. Inflect the imperfect indicative and the conditional of parlare, credere, and finire; the present subjunctive of sentire; the preterite indicative of dare.

5. Translate into Italian:

I like travelling. Our first care was to hunt up a boarding house. I am very sorry you are not well to-day. We should like to remain here a week. How much do you charge for rooms and board? We do not wish expensive rooms.

CIRCULAR OF INFORMATION FOR THOSE WHO DESIRE TO BECOME MEMBERS OF EITHER SCHOOL OF CLAS-SICAL STUDIES

Students who desire to gain admission to the School at Athens or to the School in Rome should address the Chairman of the Managing Committee or the Director of the School which they desire to enter. The application should be accompanied by a statement of the preparation of the applicant.

Students admitted to either School would do well to spend two or three years, if practicable, in study under its direction, and should endeavor to devote at least an entire school year to the purpose.

Teachers, however, who are not able to be absent from home during an entire year will find even a brief stay at Athens or Rome, under the guidance of the Schools, both stimulating and profitable. If they remain three months they will be enrolled as special students, and will enjoy all the privileges of regular students.

Ability to read German, French, and Modern Greek (for members of the School at Athens) or Italian (for members of the School in Rome), is indispensable for success in any advanced work done under the care of the Schools. The student should gain as great command of these languages as possible before going abroad; yet rapid progress may be made, if he has mastered the elements, by determined effort in Athens or Rome while he is pursuing his studies. The most effective way of learning a language is by constantly using it. Students who can command the summer preceding their year at the School, will do well to spend a part of it in Berlin, devoting the time to the study of the Museum (with the help especially of the Friederichs-Wolters Catalogue of Casts, and Furtwängler's Catalogue of Vases) and to German conversation. The students of the School at Rome should spend the remainder of the summer in one of the higher small hill-towns of Tuscany, where they may enjoy an excellent climate while mastering Italian through constant practice; and summer residence in the larger cities of Italy, including Florence and Rome, is considered by many who have had experience to be no more dangerous than in most cities of America, though the weather is hot and likely to prove somewhat debilitating. The power of following spoken Italian easily—a power not at all difficult to acquire—will contribute greatly to the student's pleasure and profit in his daily life in Rome, will open up to him a large and important literature upon Italian archaeology, and will enable him to profit by the open meetings of the German Institute (where Italian is the official language), and by lectures in the University of Rome. It is an advantage, moreover, as well as a pleasure, to be able to communicate freely with Italian specialists, and with visiting German or French specialists or students.

Students who do not need to consult economy have a variety of lines and routes at their service in going abroad. The higher scale of first-cabin prices (from $65 up) is maintained by the White Star and the Cunard Lines (New York to Liverpool), the American Line (New York to Southampton), the North German Lloyd Line (New York to Bremen, via Cherbourg and Plymouth), the express steamers of the Hamburg Line, via Southampton and Cherbourg, the French Line (New York to Havre), and the Dominion and the Leyland Lines from Boston to Liverpool; the lower scale (between $55 and $75), by the Anchor Line and the Allan Line (both from New York to Glasgow), the Hamburg-American Line (New York to Hamburg, the ordinary passenger service by "P" steamers), the North German Lloyd Line (as above, but via Southampton), the Holland-American Line (New York to Rotterdam or Amsterdam, via Boulogne), the Red Star Line (New York to Antwerp), and the Cunard Line from Boston to Liverpool. The cost of a second-class ticket from London to Rome is about $30, and from Antwerp to Rome is about $27. Students who must curtail their expenditures may secure comfortable passage on the steamers of the Allan State Line (New York to Glasgow,—minimum price $48), the Atlantic Transport Line (New York to London,—price $53), or by so-called second-class passage on the steamers of the American Line (Philadelphia to Liverpool,—minimum price $43) and the Red Star Line (New York to Antwerp,—minimum price $41). The two rates last named are for what is virtually first-class passage in outside rooms, on steamers technically classed as having no first cabin. These steamers generally have clean and attractive rooms of good size, and apparently differ little in comfort from the steamers of the other class. The difference between the rates of established lines seems less than it was formerly, and a berth in an inside room on one of the most expensive steamers may cost less than a place in a more popular room on one of the slower boats.

The least expensive while comfortable means of reaching Italy and Greece from America is by the Prince Line Steamers from New York to Naples and Genoa, only first cabin, from $58 to $75; but these steamers are slow, requiring fourteen to seventeen days for the voyage between New York and Naples, including stops at the Azores and other harbors.

The ordinary route from Germany to Greece is by way of Trieste, whence a steamer of the Austrian Lloyd sails weekly for the Piraeus. The route from Berlin to Athens by way of Constantinople is interesting; the cost of a second-class passage, which is comfortable, is about $40. From Western Europe the quickest route is by steamer from Brindisi to Patras (a little more than twenty-four hours), and thence by rail to Athens (about eight hours). The route round Peloponnesus is very attractive in good weather.

If the student wishes to go directly to Italy, he will take one of the two lines which have a regular express service from New York to Genoa and Naples,—the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American (minimum price $95 for first-cabin passage),—or one of the Prince Line Steamers (see above). From Genoa a good weekly Italian steamer, and from Palermo a steamer of the Messageries line, sail direct to the Piraeus. If proper connections can be made, a more expeditious course is from Naples to Brindisi (twelve hours) by rail, and thence by steamer to Patras.

The cost of living in Athens or in Rome is very much what one chooses to make it; but one may live cheaply in Athens or in Rome much more comfortably than in America. At the large hotels in Athens, board and lodging can be obtained for $14 per week; at small hotels and in private families, for $5.50 per week, and upward. A limited number of students may have rooms, without board, in the School building at Athens. In Rome the student will naturally avoid the pensions, where English is the language principally spoken, and will probably find it both economical and interesting to hire a furnished room or rooms, and take his two principal meals, at least, at one of the many inexpensive and very tolerable smaller restaurants.

The School library at Athens, which now contains more than three thousand volumes, provides all the books that are most essential for study in Greece, and the student in travelling should encumber himself with few books.

The library of the School in Rome, though small, contains the most necessary books for elementary use, and students can obtain free access to the fine archaeological library of the German Institute, to the consulting library at the Vatican, and to the large public libraries of the city. From the libraries of the German Institute and from the public libraries, books are also lent for home use under certain restrictions.
